Vonk and Schram (2003) in their revision of the ingolfiellidean amphipods erected a genus Paraleleupia for a portion of the paraphyletic genus Trogloleleupia Rufo, 1974, having as the type-species Trogloleleupia gobabis Griffiths, 1989. Mr. John K. Page of the Zoological Record has pointed out to us that the name is preoccupied by the pselaphine coleopteran subgenus Paraleleupia Jeannel, 1949 (see Newton and Chandler, 1989).

In accordance with Article 60 of the International Code of Zoological Nomenclature (1999), we propose to replace the preoccupied name Paraleleupia for our ingolfiellid by Rapaleleupia, nomen novum. The new name is an anagram of the first. As we pointed out in 2003, the need to erect separate genera from what was the 5-species complex of Trogloleleupia Rufo, 1951 arose from our cladistic analysis of the Ingolfiellidea, which revealed the paraphyletic nature of Trogloleleupia.

We wish to thank John K. Page, of the Zoological Record staff, for bringing this to our attention and Prof. Don S.

Chandler, University of New Hampshire, who assisted with the bibliographic references.
